Major

The Interdisciplinary Studies major provides students with the opportunity to earn a degree within a broad liberal arts education. During the first two years, students are introduced to traditional areas of learning that will allow them to understand the intellectual relationships between various disciplines.

During the junior and senior years, students may choose to specialize in Communication Studies or select two concentrations representing different fields of study. Students gain competence in the methodology of their areas of interest that enable them to extend and deepen the investigations begun during the first two years. Requirements are sufficiently flexible to enable students to prepare for graduate or professional school as well as pursue their interests in other areas.

University Requirements

See Undergraduate Studies section.

College Requirements

Offered by the department of Political Science, the International Relations minor offers a basic examination of the major approaches, disciplines, and perspectives of international relations. The study of international relations is necessarily interdisciplinary, focusing on economic, geographic, historical, and political issues and questions.

The International Relations minor is helpful in preparing students for the many careers in the international arena.

Requirements for the minor (28 units)

- Eight (8) units from HISA 117B, HISE 142, HISE 146, HISA 164B, HISE 174, HIST 182
- Eight (8) units from ECON 171, ECON 175, ECON 178/BUS 178, ECON 181, ECON 182, ECON 185/LNST 185
